

Jeffries Goes to Sleep and Forgets His Training Schedule; Corbett Visits Ogden

MUNROE'S OFFER IS TURNED DOWN

Butte Miner Willing to Pay All His Expenses; Jeff Declines.

FORMER CHAMPION IS TOO SLEEPY TO TRAIN

Will Go to Frisco to Give Boxing Exhibition at Theater.

BEN LOMOND, May 26.—An offer was received today from Jack Munroe to join the training forces at the camp of J. J. Jeffries and assist in putting the former champion in shape for his fight with Jack Johnson on the national holiday. Munroe is the Butte miner who, after an exhibition match with the then champion in the Montana city, met Jeffries in San Francisco for the world's championship and was promptly knocked out in the second round. The letter in which Munroe volunteers was written in the ex-miner's home of the Boulderie islands, Breton, Nova Scotia. Munroe is so anxious to help that he agrees to pay his own railroad fare and defray all of his own expenses while in the Jeffries camp. Manager Sam Berger, acting for Jeffries, replied to the letter, expressing thanks but gracefully declining Munroe's assistance.

Jeffries' morning jaunt on the road was the extent of his toil today. He had planned to box six rounds, but he did not awaken from his slumber this afternoon until 4 o'clock, and then he announced that further exertions would be postponed until tomorrow.

Most of Jeffries' work will be in the morning tomorrow, so that he can leave Ben Lomond on the afternoon train for San Francisco, where he will give an exhibition boxing show Friday night. Trainer Cornell, Joe Chovinsky and Jack Jeffries will accompany him. It is possible that James J. Corbett will arrive in time to join Jeffries at the pavilion.

Corbett will be with the party when they return to camp. When Jeffries received his telegram today he said: "Now you'll see some fun when Corbett and I start boxing."

Jeffries holds Corbett in high regard.

Baseball Champions Are Playing Below Their Standard; Chicago Cubs Playing Fast Game

JOHNSON IS NOT SUPERSTITIOUS

Champion Says He Cannot Win With Rabbit Feet or Other Charms.

SOME ONE TAKES NUMBER THIRTEEN OVER DO

Colored Fighter Is Gradually Wearing Out His Trainers on the Road.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—That Johnson is not a fighter who is burdened with superstitions, as are so many champions, was proved today when he was entering the rubber room his daily message when it was found that No. 13 was tucked over his way.

"Not superstitious," eh "Jack"? The question thrown at him. "Not a bit," was the response. "Of the boys around here objected to No. 13, for they thought it might hinder, but it doesn't bother me. I'm not going to beat Jim Jeffries with rabbit feet or other kind of charms, but I'm just because I am a better man than he is, and that will be enough. I'm not afraid of all the No. 13 in the whole world."

It was as calm around the Johnson camp this afternoon as it was yesterday before. Johnson was out for a comfortable ride, and the information was given to people who wanted to see him.

He was on the road in the forenoon, grinding out two miles of work in company with Tom Fitch and George Cotton.

Marty Cutler has decided that he had quite a sufficiency of the road game. Cutler says it is because his horse is in poor shape, but Joe Furey, who is in charge of the team, says that the horse is in good shape, and that the information was given to people who wanted to see him.

The machine descended under perfect control and landed in the center of the field.

For the first time in his 32 years, Bishop Milton Wright, father of the aviators, left the earth yesterday in a six-minute flight and was 200 feet in the air.
